

Applications areas for Corenso cores:

Tape and label

There are a number of stringent requirements in the tape and label industry when it comes to cores. Regardless whether it is a simple or a technically special product, Corenso can provide you with the highest quality cores.

Why choose Corenso:

Made for customers in highly diverse markets ranging from packaging, food, non-food, automotive, and pharmaceutical industries, Corenso cores are made to meet each customer's specific needs. Our selection includes long-length and pre-cut cores, and our precision-cutting capabilities allow for the complete use of the tape and label rolls. Based on your request, the inside of the cores can also be printed with your company name and logo.

We are also dedicated to helping you to reduce your packaging costs and improve the efficiency of the production processes.
